Welcome to Backstage!

Here, you will find the 'Ladies of the Chorus' getting ready for opening night of a small-scale production of Verdi's Macbetto.

If you're a regular opera-goer in this area, you'll have seen them before as Cigarette Girls, Geishas, and Nuns - this time, they are the Witches!*

Despite their numerous appearances over the years, would you recognise them out on the high street? Or know their names if you ever met them?

Who really are the people you only seem to see 'upstage'?

*There are only 3 Witches due to budgetary constraints.

Written by and starring Bridget Hardy, Penny Rossano and Samantha Houston, this new play is (possibly) the world's first 'Sit-Op-Com' (Situation Operatic Comedy)!

Set in the theatre broom cupboard, next to the building's only toilet, this tale draws on the ladies' 20+ years in the world of opera, so join them as they chart their ups and downs over one-act (55 minutes) with humour, heart, and a sprinkling of live opera singing!
