

Dear Business Owner

If I can just take 5 minutes of your time to introduce Telecom Direct. We are a local B2B Telecoms provider trying to help local Business like yourselves reduce costs and improve the efficiency of your Communications solution.

We have over 15 Years industry knowledge and expertise within the field, passing this onto our customers is vital to ensure that the correct solution is being used by your Business. All too often we find that Customers have been miss-sold over priced or out of date Solutions that drain on the Company Budget. Often being tied into lengthy contracts where at the end they do not actually own any of the equipment.

At Telecom Direct our Contracts start on a 30 day rolling, giving you that added piece of mind. Telecom Direct is an accredited British Telecom Wholesale Partner able to process orders for a wide range of products and services which could only previously be provided by British Telecom. Our close working relationship with BT means that we command a significant level of co-operation, hence the growing number of customers choosing to use Telecom Direct for their telecom's needs.

Hosted VOIP Solution

Business phone systems are central to the core business activities of all organisations in the UK. No matter how advanced systems become people will always need to talk to customers and suppliers to ensure that "personal touch" is given. The quality of voice calls will always be important and cannot be compromised in any way, as the phone remains one of the most important business tools in any company.

Hosted Voice over Internet Protocol (VoIP) is a virtual phone system located off premises 'in the cloud' that lets you make telephone calls using your internet connection rather than a traditional phone line. Users can benefit from the same and additional features and functionality offered through a traditional phone system. Calls between your VoIP handsets are always free, so you and your colleagues can contact each other for free, anywhere in the world.

Benefits of Hosted VoIP

- No Line rental costs
- User can have a telephone number from another city or country
- Built in fraud protection
- No need for a PBX at each office
- Free calls between sites
- 100% scalable, can grow with your Business
- Easily integrate home and remote workers
- Low capital outlay
- Reduced costs
- Flexible nature of Licensing means users can be turned on and off – saving money
- Ability to keep your existing numbers anywhere in the world
- Disaster Recovery (Hosted voice has multiple active servers)
