

Why make a Will?

Without a Will -

- You cannot be sure those you would wish to benefit will actually do so
- Your spouse/civil partner will not automatically inherit all of your estate
- “common law” partners may not receive anything
- Minor children could be taken into care whilst guardians are appointed
- There could be lengthy delays for your beneficiaries and disputes.

We can help you:

- Identify your options and requirements
- Create the will and relevant documents
- Organise the witnessing and signing
- Ensure you and your family are protected for the future.

All from the comfort of your own home!

Weekend and evening appointments are available to suit you.

Protect your children...

Have you thought what their future might hold if you were no longer around?

Who would look after your children?

Without appointed Guardians, even if they have Godparents, they could end up in Foster Care. A Judge will decide who takes care of them. Don't leave their future to chance.

Protect your family home...

Don't risk losing your family home to pay for care in old age as a result of the Community Care Act 1990.

A staggering 70,000 homes were lost last year to pay for care in old age. Don't leave it to chance.

Protect your families Estate

Protect your families future estate from children divorcing or having issues with creditors and generational inheritance tax liability

Additionally ensuring your half of the estate is protected regardless of partners remarrying.

Protect your partner

If you are living as a couple – but not officially married, you may be treated as a single person and your surviving partner may get nothing at all from your Estate. Even if you are married, don't assume that your spouse will get everything. Brothers, sisters and parents may have a claim. Protect your loved one.
