GUILDFORD OPERA

Guildford Opera has been performing opera and operetta since 1971 working with talented soloists, many of whom go on to successful careers in national and international companies. This concert showcases some of that talent and the music that motivates it.

Hannah Dobra

Kevin John

Rachel Falaise

Gregor Kowalski

Hannah Dobra (Soprano) made her debut with Guildford Opera singing the title role in Lakmé last May. She graduated from the Wales International Academy of Voice in July this year.

Kevin John (Tenor) has been closely involved with Guildford Opera since 2003, as MD until 2009 and later as Stage Director for a number of productions. Kevin can be seen as Macduff in Guildford Opera's production of Verdi's Macbeth in November this year.

Rachel Falaise (Mezzo) made her debut with Guildford Opera singing Hata in the 2016 production of The Bartered Bride. Last April she was Delilah in Genesis Chorale's Samson and Delilah, Gregor Kowalski (Baritone) returns to join tonight's quartet, having appeared in last year's gala concert and previously singing the role of Rocco in the company's 2014 production of Fidelio.

Judith Flint (Pianist) is Guildford Opera's regular accompanist and formed one half of the duet accompaniment for its production of Lakmé in May this year.

Guildford Opera's production of Macbeth can be seen at The Electric Theatre, 8, 10 and 11 November 2017.
