Gavin Milnthorpe: he sings, he plays guitar, he tells jokes often all at the same time, well if Trump can be president! Gavin is a multi talented singer comedian, who has a sharp insight into growing up and the state of the world around him. His style often involves the audience, this makes him a great opening act.

Martin Westgate's set is a series of one liners and cheeky gags which sometimes sail close to the wind but none then less make audiences laugh, long and loud. He has performed Comedy nights in Hampshire, Suffolk, London and Norfolk. Martin is regular writer and performer on BBC Radio Norfolk's monthly 'New Comedy Show'. He also is a member of a Norwich based improvisation group, the 'Intellectual Hooligans'

Eva Bindeman is a fresh face on the comedy circuit, using her unique and warm style of comedy that takes audiences along on with her. Eva shares with them some insightful observations about family, friends and firefighters. She won the rising star comedy award last year and has performed in Newquay, Brighton, Portsmouth, and Manchester. Eve is set to make a big name for herself in 2018.

Stephen DiPlacito has established himself as a confident and assured performer. He is an engaging comedian with stories about his life, family and facing the subtleties of getting older. Stephen was described as 'naturally funny and a very instinctive performer' whilst competing in the Jokers Joker of the year competition 2014 and November 2014 was the overall winner of the Blackout at Up the Creek. Stephen also runs a
