Walled Garden at Clumber

A talk by Maggy Watkins

The grand 18th Century 4 acre walled garden has a magic all of its own. It has 15' brick walls which provides a micro climate within it and an herbaceous border full of colour and vibrancy all year round. Here is the longest glasshouse in Britain and the Dukes of Newcastle would take their special guests for afternoon tea in the Palm House providing exotic out of season fruit for them. The garden celebrates both heritage and creativity and I hope our journey will be enjoyable
